

DMdB joins forces with Envirosuite

Providing market leading environmental intelligence covering noise and vibration

April 6th, 2021 - Copenhagen, Denmark: DMdB

DMdB is proud to announce that they have signed a contract for DMdB to provide Envirosuite with world-class noise and vibration expertise to help them maintain and develop strong noise and vibration solutions.

Kent Espersen, Envirosuite's Vice President for the EMEA region, commented on the agreement, stating "We want to work with the foremost experts to provide strong solutions for our customers. With extensive expertise and unique market insight, DMdB is an ideal partner. We look forward to a fruitful collaboration".

The cooperation agreement starts on 1st April 2021 and entails DMdB providing support for Envirosuite's noise, blast and vibration monitoring solutions. DMdB founder and director, Douglas Manvell said "I have always had a budding business owner inside me and Envirosuite offered me the opportunity to live that dream within my much-loved environmental noise and vibration domain. I have been involved in the solutions for decades and am excited to continue working with the company, its products and its staff within the realms of my new company".

Envirosuite helps companies harness the power of environmental intelligence.
